

19 June 2020
Perth, WA

To our Valued Clients,

RMT - bringing you ChemAlert and FirstPriority - continue to monitor the Government and Department of Health directives to ensure a safe environment for our staff, clients, and visitors from the impact of COVID-19.

We maintain a vigilant outlook in protecting the health and well-being for all, whilst still operating as normal in these trying times. We would like to assure you that we have put in place measures to ensure that we still operate at our full capacity to meet the needs and demands of our clients.

We remain open to support businesses around Australia and internationally:

- All teams across RMT – bringing you ChemAlert and FirstPriority - remain fully operational
- Our Support team has been putting in place additional security where required to enable your staff to access ChemAlert during their working-from-home period

New Protocols to protect our staff:

- We have implemented a CovidSafe Workplan and continue to add further controls as they are identified.
- We have increased our cleaning regime in the office
- Hand sanitiser is available to all of our staff
- Processes introduced to manage staff who are feeling unwell
- No travel domestic or international. Any existing staff returning to work after being interstate or overseas self-quarantine for at least 14 days
- RMT Executive meeting frequently to assess the changing situation

As we continue to monitor the situation and follow the advice given by the Government and Department of Health, we will update you should there be any changes in the future.

We thank you for your continued support and please let us know if you need anything,

Regards,

Dean Apostolou,

Managing Director
Risk Management Technologies

Issue 4 – 19 June 2020